19 HISTORICAL OR ARCHITECTURAL IMPORTANCE

Extremely complex land transactions made the history of this row of similar mill houses impossible to trace. They were probably built about 1880 to house workers at the Stevens family's Intervale textile mills, located just across the Massachusetts line in Dudley.

Historically, they are significant for their connection with the Intervale Mills, which were responsible for the development of Quinebaug as a distinct village.

Architecturally, they are notable for an unusual combination of Greek Revival and Victorian Vernacular features. The corner pilasters, gable-end-to-street orientation, and prominent frieze and cornice are all Greek Revival, intended to suggest the massing and construction of a classical Greek temple. This building is simpler and more altered than its neighbors; the asymmetrical first floor bay spacing is the only strong clue that this is not a purely Greek Revival building.
